

New LHG – QF Interline Integration via NDC

New Interline itineraries for Wider Travel Options are now also on QF operated flights.

Lufthansa Group is taking another important step forward in its NDC journey by integrating Qantas Airways (QF) prime code. This significant enhancement enables travel agents to seamlessly book interline journeys that combine Lufthansa Group and Qantas Airways flights through NDC channels, offering a more streamlined and efficient booking experience.

Key Takeaways:

- QF prime flight number must be combined with a LHG flight number
- Lufthansa Group is the fare owner and validating carrier
- The origin or destination is in Australia, New Zealand, Fiji, or New Caledonia for itineraries to/from Europe with a connection point in IATA Traffic Conference Area 3

This addition highlights Lufthansa Group's commitment to strengthening partnerships and accelerating the NDC transformation journey, while enabling competitive travel options across the Southwest Pacific region.

The new LHG-QF interline itineraries are available for purchase through Lufthansa Group's Direct NDC API, NDC aggregators, and SPRK.

Experience the next step in Lufthansa Group's NDC evolution—where seamless interline travel with Qantas Airways becomes part of a broader, smarter network.
