Description

Technoly works with a network of travel industry companies to build software that streamlines and simplifies the travel experience. We don't have to go far to meet, some of our partners reside in the same building. We all share our experiences, exchange ideas, information and data, as we believe in the power of working together. Featured Work: MyCockpit, a personal travel assistant for pre-booked flights. With MyCockpit we aim to revolutionize the travel experience, providing the traveler with a sophisticated tool for all aspects of travel information and booking of additional services. All in one interface with continuous user experience on desktop, tablet and smartphone.
